

WOLLMEISE BIENNALE 2020

Do you still remember our 2018 advent calendar?

There was a jewel and a muted version of the colors. There is a knitted blanket from the muted version in our shop and every time I see it, I am still happy about the interplay of colors, and find it a shame not to offer exactly this color combination. Most of the time I think about how to put the colors in the limelight, think of three-dimensional effects, new exciting color gradients and it's already art.

What could be more obvious than starting a Wollmeise Birdie Biennale?

Many countries send their best artists to Venice every two years to represent the spirit and taste of the times. I think such an event is missing in our common knitting world. Art and handicraft have always been closely linked and especially knitted items reflect the taste of the times.

You're probably already curious like our Wollmeise Biennale will look and work.

PRIMA KLIMA AUSTRALIA

This month, with your help, we will donate € 200 for climate protection.

Of course we rounded up again.

This time we donate to WWF "Koalas for Australia"

Thank you very much :-)

GOTS certification

As much as we are grateful for your donations to environmental protection thanks to your help, it is probably not enough to make our planet worth living for our children. Everyone should start with or continue with what started well, to protect people and nature.

Everyone knows GOTS (Global Organic Textile Standard)?
GOTS prescribes a lot of essential points that are really important to protect the environment, produce sustainably, to offer fair working conditions and many other points.

We checked
our company
using the GOTS list
and meet almost all conditions

Almost all conditions are unfortunately NOT ALL:

To get the GOTS certificate, every wool delivery would have to be certified and that costs a lot of money.

We'll get out of here! Why? Every cent that is spent is reflected in the price calculation, to the detriment of the end customer.

We strive to keep our prices customer-friendly, which gives us a good feeling and your wallet does not become unnecessarily empty.

DK

The Wollmeise was again very busy and now has favorite colors in DK!

You probably already know them in our other wool qualities, we would like to introduce them to you now.

From Friday, March 6th, 2020 at 8 a.m.
are the 3 pretty in the starting blocks,
to get caught up in you!
