

The day of the lost sock "die verlorene Socke"

Everyone knows the phenomenon: The washing machine is filled with all kinds of clothes. We press START and above all hope for clean laundry. This device is happy to fulfill our longing for freshly scented fabrics. But what is that? At the latest when hanging up the laundry or even when folding it up, we notice the fatal evil.

WHERE IS THE 2nd SOCK?

May 9 is the memorial day for all socks that have mysteriously disappeared. In order to please our sadness, our Wollmeise has created a new special color. There couldn't be a more fitting name than:

Die verlorene Socke

We have been laughing at a very special commercial for a long time, which we would like to share with you here.

We are sorry that the video is only available in German

Video Sockenschwein

With a laughing and a crying eye, we would like to give you courage to bring your lost socks back home To bring "the good old sock drawer".

Die verlorene Socke
+ Wollmeisenbad
scentless 250 ml

Die verlorene Socke
you will receive together with our Wollmeisenbad "scentless" (250 ml)

Worry Mc Monster

Our little worry eater in the color Campari Orange has unfortunately not received as much encouragement from you as we thought. That made us very sad and so we immediately put him a note in his bum bag.

Nevertheless - we keep our promise.

We would like to donate € 200.00 to the Deutschen Tafeln. We would now like to make the pattern that Patricia Rodriguez painstakingly worked out for us available to you as a freebie in our online shop.

We hope you enjoy crocheting!

Absage Summer Sale

Dear Wollmeisen fans,

This year, unfortunately, not everything is going as planned and due to the crisis we had to cancel our summer sale and keep our shop closed, which is no longer news. This decision was very difficult for us, especially our woolly tit. On these special days we would have been happy to advise you with our wool, laughed with you, informed each other about all the news, farmed you and spent a wonderful knitting time with you. We received many inquiries as to why we act the way we do. The health of our customers and our employees have absolute priority here! In the store and also in the sale, we could not guarantee the necessary and required protective measures. We would never forgive ourselves if any of you or we fell ill. That wouldn't be fair to anyone. Since there is already much speculation as to whether and when our annual online sale will take place - let's have a little more time, we are working on it.

advent calender Wool 2019

We still have a highlight for you - The time has come!

It's been half a year since we all worked together knitted on "Closer to the edge". From June you can purchase the colors in both the berry and natural tones as whole strands and also as kits. In addition, the pattern by Julia-Maria Hegenbart will also be available in our online shop. We are already looking forward to what you will knit from these great colors.

Atlantik

E15

er bläst

Blaubeer S kyr

früher Thymian

nochmal plop

B
L
A U

Isländisch Moos

Kraflar

PLOP

Odin wars

Storchenschnabel

tief im Vulkan

R
O
T

Impressum:

Rohrspatz & Wollmeise

Birkengrund 29

85276 Pfaffenhofen an der Ilm

Newsletter abbestellen