

Colour Theory Kit by Jana Huck

Color Theory is a knitted triangular scarf, that offers the knitter many options. Jana's idea is using the colors of Rohrspatz & Wollmeise to illustrate some lessons in color theory.

Janukke-Strickdesign

(Jana Huck) has designed on this topic from our lace dyeings beautiful triangular scarves, which we want to present you as our Valentine's Day gift.

From February 14th 2020 you can purchase the pattern from Jana.

The associated and put together with love Lace birdies are only available at Rohrspatz & Wollmeise.

There will be a beginner-friendly frizzy version and a version with a patterned section.

The latter can be worked with the technique of mosaic or jacquard knitting and will in turn shown with two different color distributions.

We already give you an insight what colors are waiting for you

Prima Klima

Australia

In October the time had come, our wollmeise already presented you the first special colors from our Prima Klima campaign.

Now it is time to support again.

Another sensitive and current topic is of course

Australia!

Every small contribution is a big help.

Rohrspatz
& Wollmeise®

goes into the next round with the „Prima Klima“ campaign.

Look forward to 5 new special colors in PURE,
which our Wollmeise has dedicated to Australia.

We donate one euro for every sold skein to an organization.

This time we chose WWF.

Our campaign starts on Friday 31st January

wollmeise is getting ready
& is going on a big tour again this year!

April 4-5, 2020
Leipziger Woll-Fest & Stoffmesse

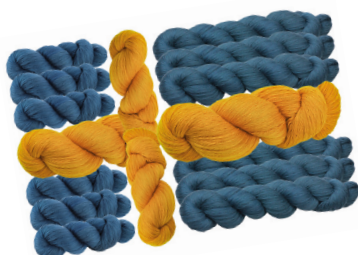

This wonderful exhibition takes place for the 13th time and we are there!
Organized as a small backyard meeting with wool sales, within a few years the wool festival blossomed into an event that knitters and those interested in handcrafts from all over Germany and even attracts from abroad. Whether you just want to enjoy the atmosphere, gather new creative inspiration or meet one or two virtual friends.

This event offers a wide range for every enthusiast!

We are happy to be here :-)

April 25-26, 2020
Yarn Fest Stockholm

Artipelag is the clever name of the art gallery, which is located on a cliff overlooking the archipelago.

It is also the location of the first yarn party in Stockholm.

We are very excited because this is the very first time that a wool festival is taking place in Stockholm.

Our wollmeise loves Sweden. The landscape, the food, the people there.

Of course, we also have to be part of this beautiful fair.

Behind this yarn party are Maria (@mommysgoneknitting) & Veronica (@ Bravo.Knits), who have longed for such an event in Stockholm.

And Voila! You did it - your dream came true!

The two organized this event themselves. We just think it's great and had to join in immediately to see these two to support you in realizing your dream!

At the end of April it is time for us - Välcome till Sverige!
